—Smile and the world smiles with you. It does not cost you anything to be human, to show by your manner that you regard your fellow-worker or your employee as a fellow-being. A friendly greeting, no matter how hurried, is a tonic. Take the trifling moment of time for that greeting. Make the trifling amount of effort. Remember that the joy or the unhappiness of life is made up of trifles, just as the continents are made of grains of sand and drops of water.

—Numbered among the delightful social events of Saturday was the twenty-third annual reunion of the Slagle family, when 64 relatives gathered at Idora park, Youngstown, and enjoyed the pleasures of the park with a noonday picnic dinner. Relatives were present from Columbiana, Struthers, Youngstown, Washingtonville and Poland. The following officers were re-elected to serve for the following year: President, S. E. Slagle, Poland; secretary and treasurer, E. M. Slagle of Washingtonville. The reunion next year will be held at the same place the third Saturday of June.

Former Canfield Man Dead
Simmons Sackett, one of the well known and most highly respected residents of Jefferson county, passed away June 11 at the home of his nephew, S. E. Chidester, nine miles northwest of the city, says the Fairfield, Iowa, Journal. The body was brought to the home of E. G. Chidester on 301 West Washington street. Funeral services were held June 13.

Simmons, Jr., son of Simmons Sackett, Sr., and Ede Hayes was born in Canfield, Ohio, on July 29th, 1846. He came to Iowa in March, 1870, with his brother Justus and his sisters Betsey, Achash and Hulda and bought the farm known at that time, as the Ramsey farm, one and one-half miles north of this city. He moved to Fairfield in March, 1912, and resided here until about a month ago, when he went to make his home with his nephew, S. E. Chidester, as there was there a strike with apoplexy ten days ago, and where he died last night. His brother and sisters have preceded him in death and he was the last surviving member of the well known Sackett family.

RED CROSS AUXILIARY ORGANIZED IN CANFIELD

A number of ladies of Canfield village and township met in the Presbyterian church last Friday evening and organized an auxiliary of the Red Cross Chapter of the Red Cross.

The officers elected are president, Mrs. Phil Wetmore; secretary, Miss Marjorie Burger; treasurer, Mrs. C. E. Noll. Another meeting will be held at the same place this (Friday) evening when plans will be made for carrying on the Red Cross work.

For the benefit of those to whom joining the Red Cross society seems formidable we wish to state that you simply pay your dollar, receive your badge of membership and there your obligation ends. Of course if you can and will give of your time and means for the furtherance of the work both or either will be gratefully received.

This week a nation wide movement is on to raise a large sum for the use of the society. The local organization is not yet in proper working order to help in this movement but next week, during Chautauqua, representatives of the Red Cross will be on the grounds ready to receive your money and decorate you with a Red Cross pin. Don't be found without one. Remember, men are just as eligible to membership as women and their money will go just as far in the relief of suffering.

It may not be such a long time till our boys are on the firing line and in need of the care and comfort that only the Red Cross hospitals can give them. For their sakes and the sake of all suffering brought about by this horrible war give as liberally as you can to the aid of this most humane cause.

PRESIDENT WILSON CALLS FOR 70,000 VOLUNTEERS

Washington, June 20.—President Wilson today called for 70,000 volunteers.

He issued a proclamation designating the week of June 23-30 as recruiting week for the regular army and called upon unmarried men without dependents to enroll for war service in order that the ranks of the regulars might be filled promptly.

The proclamation follows:

I hereby designate the period of June 23 to June 30, next, as recruiting week for the regular army and call upon unmarried men without dependents to enroll for war service. The age of 18 and 49 years, who have no dependents and who are not engaged in pursuits vitally necessary to the prosecution of the war, to present themselves for enlistment during the week herein designated, to the number 70,000.

WOODROW WILSON.

The president's action was taken at the request of army officials, who have been seriously concerned over the slow rate of recruiting for the regular army despite the fact that the war department's recruiting agents cover every section of the country and that men are asked to serve only for the period of the war.

It had been hoped that the regular service could be brought to its full war strength of approximately 300,000 men by recruiting men without dependents. The war department has permitted the war department to carry out its plans in regard to the training of all the forces to be raised and also as to the dispatch of armies to France.

For several days, however, the average daily enrollment for the army has been little more than 1,000 men instead of the 5,000 or more the department hoped to secure.

Today's recruiting bulletin shows that since April 1, 121,363 men have been enlisted of the 183,598 necessary to bring the service to war strength. The army, therefore, is about 70,000 men short of war strength, and the president's call, the first he has made directly for war volunteers, is designed to fill in this gap as quickly as possible.

THE BETTER LAND

I hear thee speak of the better land,
Thou call'st its children a happy band;
Mother, oh where is that radiant shore?

Shall we not seek it and weep no more?
Is it where the flowers of the orange blow,
And the fireflies glance thro' the myrtle boughs?

Not there; not there, my child.
Is it where the feathery palm-trees rise,
And the date grows ripe under sunny skies,

Or midst green islands of glittering seas,
Where fragrant forests perfume the breeze,
And strange bright birds on their starry wings

Bear the rich hues of all glorious things?
Not there; not there, my child.
Is it far away in some region old,
Where the rivers wander o'er sands of gold?

Where the burning rays of the ruby shine,
And the diamond lights up the secret mine,
And the pearl gleams forth from the coral strand.

Is it there, sweet mother, that better land?
Not there; not there, my child.
Eye hath not seen it, gentle boy,
Ear hath not heard its deep songs of joy;

Dreams cannot picture a world so fair,
Sorrow and death do not enter there;
Time doth not breathe on its fadeless bloom.

Far beyond the clouds, and beyond the tomb,
Is it there; it is there my child.
—Mrs. Hemans.

PLANES AND HUGE GUNS TO WIN WAR

So Declares Maj. Gen. Goethals Before Senate Committee on Military Affairs.

Washington, June 21.—Maj. Gen. George W. Goethals, Panama canal builder, and Frederick H. Allen, New York banker, recently returned from the western front, joined in an earnest plea before the senate subcommittee on military affairs for the centralization of authority and responsibility in working out the administration of the $600,000,000 program for a great air fleet.

"This war will be won by aeroplanes and big guns," Gen. Goethals stated. "In the big undertaking to turn out great fleets of aircraft, with artillery, must be the dominating factor in the struggle, it is essential to concentrate authority and responsibility. Aeronautical authority is now distributed through various branches of the services. It would work much better to have some one man responsible and vest him with authority to direct the entire air construction program. The idea of the Sheppard-Hulbert bill is working in the right direction. Division always weakens. Concentrate the power and make one man responsible for results."

"Whether this concentration should go so far as to create a new department at this time is for the committee to say. It does not make much difference what name you give a post so long as responsibility and control is centered there."

WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC AROUSES NEW YORK

New York, June 21.—New York is aroused to the peril of the white slave traffic. A gigantic movement to forever stamp out this evil has been started. This is the result of the murder of Ruth Cruger, the high school girl. The police have records that nearly 700 young girls have been missing from their homes since the first of the year.

Mrs. Grace Humiston, the woman through whose efforts the Cruger girl's body was found, came out with a statement that Alfredo Cocchi, indicted for the murder, was only a tool of the white slave ring. She declared the "system" was composed of men of such prominence that their names would amaze the country.

BIG GRANGE MEETING IS HELD IN OHIO CITY

Napoleon, June 21.—The biggest grange meeting in the state this year was held here at the fair grounds, with a picnic dinner. Fifteen Ohio counties, two in Michigan and one in Indiana were represented in the attendance of 3,500. Two state masters, L. J. Taber of Ohio and John C. Ketcham of Michigan, were the speakers. In an address Taber declared the farmers favor food control by the government, but desire also that coal and harvesting machinery be put under the government's control.

Horse Runs Away, Woman Dies.

Mansfield, June 21.—Mrs. Herbert Handsfield, residing east of Loudenville, was instantly killed when a horse she was driving took fright at a passing car and ran on the Pennsylvania railroad and ran away, throwing her from the buggy.

WILL HAVE ALMOST UNLIMITED POWER

Three Men to Be Charged With Conduct of the War in Its Economic Aspects.

Washington, June 21.—Three men, having almost unlimited powers, will be charged with the conduct of the war in its economic aspects, according to revised plans the president and cabinet are considering. The plans, it was learned, depend for consummation upon the early action of congress. The three men, who are now referred to as the "big three," are:

Herbert C. Hoover, who, under his authority as food administrator, will receive vast power over the conservation and distribution of foodstuffs throughout the country.

Bernard Baruch, financier, who will have complete control of all purchases whether for the allies or on behalf of this country, will probably head the munitions board, similar to the British munitions board, a civilian body that makes all purchases for the British army upon plans drawn by experts of the war department.

William Denman, chairman of the shipping board, or Maj. Gen. George W. Goethals, head of the emergency fleet corporation, will be vested with complete authority to build ships and to direct their operations when completed.

It is possible this later authority will be divided so that one department will have authority in building ships and the other in their operation.

RUSSIA'S PLEDGE TO THE ROOT MISSION

Washington, June 21.—Russia's pledge, made in an address by Foreign Minister Terentchenko to the Root commission on June 15, has just received the state department. The pledge says that Russia will fight until German autocracy and militarism are crushed. Ambassador Francis at Petrograd cabled the full text of the foreign minister's speech. The foreign minister spoke in English, in part, as follows:

"The revolution in Russia is a moral factor which shows the will of the Russian people in its endeavor to secure liberty and justice and these elements the Russian people show and wish to show not only in their internal affairs which we ourselves have to lead and in which we wish to be guided by these principles, but also in our external relations and in our international policies. And now let us stand together, for we pursue the same endeavor in the war and in the peace which is to follow."

"This war which was brought upon us three years ago and which the Russian revolution found when it entered the struggle free nations, left but one door for us to enter and by that door we have entered and we shall continue in that path. The Russian people strive to the end of military and to a durable peace which would exclude every violence from whatever side it may come and all imperialistic schemes whatever their form may be."

OHIO G. A. R. CHOOSES DEPARTMENT OFFICERS

Akron, Ohio.—W. A. Pittinger of Dennison was elected department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic here over D. M. Hall of Columbus and G. D. Neal of Mt. Vernon.

Other officers elected were: I. C. Gibbons, Akron, senior vice commander; C. O. Palmer, Dayton, junior vice commander; Dr. J. M. Adams, Cincinnati, department medical director, and Rev. Edmund Burdall, Winchester, chaplain. The officers were formally installed after the parade.

Hamilton was selected as the site of next year's encampment.

JAPANESE MISSION IS COMING TO AMERICA

Washington, D. C.—Japan will send a mission to the United States. The mission will have broad powers, and is expected to leave Japan the first part of July.

The mission is regarded as offering an unparalleled opportunity for a closer understanding between the United States and Japan through a full discussion of the many complex questions of the unsettled far east.

Five Killed, Three Badly Hurt, Cleveland, Ohio.—Death suddenly cast its shadow over a party of Clevelanders, leaving their camp at Chippewa Lake broken on a fishing trip, when a Southwestern interurban car rammed a light motor truck in which they were riding at the entrance to the camp grounds. A woman and a boy were killed instantly; three men and a little girl were badly hurt.

Crestline, O.—A fast Pennsylvania train hit an automobile on the Thorman street crossing, instantly killing two men and fatally injuring a woman.

POSTAL ECONOMY

The postoffice department has begun a campaign of economy in which postmasters and senders of mail throughout the country can co-operate. As a measure of economy postmasters and post office employees are directed to encourage the public to use stamps of the highest denominations suited to the amount of postage required on all mail.

For example, a two-cent stamp instead of two one-cent stamps should be affixed to letters needing 2 cents postage, and a ten-cent stamp instead of five two-cent stamps should be attached to parcels requiring 10 cents postage.

Such use of stamps will effect a large saving to the government in the cost of producing, transporting and canceling them, and will benefit the public in minimizing the number of stamps handled and affixed to mail, the department points out.
